

MARY
SEACOLE
PROGRAMME

Funded clinical leadership development for community pharmacy

The NHS Leadership Academy (as part of NHS England and NHS Improvement) is working in collaboration with the Centre for Pharmacy Postgraduate Education (CPPE), to offer the Mary Seacole leadership programme to pharmacists and pharmacy technicians working in community pharmacy.

This six-month programme was developed to support healthcare professionals within the NHS, and is available to the community pharmacy workforce. It is designed to develop clinical leadership and management skills to enable pharmacy professionals to drive quality services in community pharmacy and improve the health of the patients they see.

"The programme has helped me to better lead my team. The workshops provide a friendly and controlled environment to practise skills learned as a part of the e-learning.

With supportive, passionate trainers and proactive participants it was a fun way of learning new skills."
