

agilio | PRIMARY CARE | iLEARN

Pharmacy First

Free e-learning for pharmacists from NICE CKS authors

Agilio has worked as a trusted clinical content provider with NICE for over two decades. Our team of dedicated, expert authors creates evidence-based guidance for GPs and other healthcare professionals to support them in the diagnosis and treatment of all common conditions in primary care. With 650,000 unique visitors per month to CKS, our team's expertise and responsibility to maintain it means that our e-learning content is written by some of the most experienced authors in the UK, providing users with the most up-to-date evidence-based sources of information.

Rollout of Pharmacy First

The Pharmacy First service is due to be rolled out shortly and covers seven common conditions:

- Acute otitis media
- Impetigo
- Infected insect bites and stings
- Shingles
- Sinusitis
- Sore throat
- Uncomplicated UTI in women

Agilio's Free Courses for Pharmacists

To support the rollout of the NHS Pharmacy First Service, we've developed 7 e-learning courses available on our iLearn platform for these common conditions.

These accredited courses are based on NICE CKS and aligned to the NHS England clinical pathways and PGDs.

All these courses are free to access and include a case study and multiple-choice questions to test understanding, with a certificate of completion.

Pharmacists can register for these free courses via our Agilio iLearn platform.
<https://learn.clarity.co.uk/Courses/pharmacy-first>

Ross Ferguson, Deputy Editor of NICE CKS and Lead Pharmacist at Agilio Software

“We know that Pharmacy First is a huge opportunity for community pharmacy in England. It will highlight the important role pharmacy teams play in their communities and success could lead to the development of more clinical services that will benefit patients and the NHS.”

“An essential element in ensuring that success is quality learning for pharmacists to ensure they are equipped with the knowledge to identify and appropriately manage these conditions in the pharmacy setting. Our courses clearly explain how to go about this, and they are aligned to the clinical pathways and PGDs.”

“We already provide hundreds of e-learning courses for GPs, and combined with our expertise in producing evidence-based clinical content through NICE CKS we are confident that our free courses will complement other available resources to support the successful delivery of this new service.”

About Agilio Software

Agilio Software has 40 years of experience supporting healthcare operations through innovative software solutions. We support primary care with our innovative compliance, learning, and workforce solutions that drive efficiencies and boost productivity so that more time and resources can be focused on patient care.

For more information on our Pharmacy First e-learning, please contact primarycare@agiliosoftware.com

Corporate
Member

The CPD Certification Service

